

Acceptable Use Policy

Trusted Advisors LLC | Version 1.0 | Effective Date: August 27, 2026

This Acceptable Use Policy ("Policy") applies to the use of Trusted Advisors LLC products, services, websites, applications, communities, and TrustedAdvisorsAI agents. It is intended to help ensure that our services remain useful, reliable, safe, and available to everyone who uses them.

Our Approach

TrustedAdvisorsAI agents are designed to support meaningful, personalized learning and other outcome-focused experiences. We want users to explore, ask questions, practice, experiment, and engage with their AI instructors in ways that help them achieve their goals.

At the same time, AI services require significant computing resources. Responsible use helps us maintain the quality, responsiveness, and affordability of the service for everyone.

Reasonable Personal Use

Subscriptions and access to TrustedAdvisorsAI agents are intended for reasonable personal use consistent with the purpose of the service and the subscription or access provided.

We do not impose a specific daily session length or predetermined number of questions or interactions. We recognize that learning needs vary: some sessions may be brief, while others may require more time and interaction.

However, unusually intensive, excessive, automated, repetitive, or continuous use that substantially exceeds ordinary individual use may be considered unreasonable use.

Examples may include automated generation of large volumes of requests, continuous or near-continuous interactions unrelated to normal learning or use of the service, sharing an individual account among multiple users, or using the service in a manner designed primarily to consume excessive system resources.

Account Use

Accounts and subscriptions are intended for use by the individual associated with the account unless Trusted Advisors LLC expressly provides otherwise.

Users may not share account credentials, provide unauthorized access to an account, circumvent account or service restrictions, or use automated systems, scripts, bots, or similar technologies to access TrustedAdvisorsAI agents without our authorization.

Prohibited Uses

Users may not use Trusted Advisors LLC services to:

- Violate applicable laws or regulations.
- Infringe upon the rights, privacy, intellectual property, or safety of others.
- Harass, threaten, exploit, deceive, or intentionally harm another person.
- Attempt to gain unauthorized access to accounts, systems, networks, data, or services.

- Introduce malicious software or otherwise interfere with the security, availability, or operation of our services.
- Circumvent technical safeguards, access controls, subscription requirements, or reasonable usage protections.
- Resell, redistribute, commercially exploit, or provide unauthorized third-party access to TrustedAdvisorsAI agents or services.
- Use automated methods to generate unusually large volumes of requests or otherwise place an unreasonable burden on our systems.
- Misrepresent AI-generated information as professional advice where professional judgment or certification is required.

AI Limitations and User Responsibility

TrustedAdvisorsAI agents are designed to provide instruction, guidance, information, feedback, and assistance. Artificial intelligence can make mistakes, misunderstand information, or provide incomplete or inaccurate responses.

Users remain responsible for their decisions and actions and should use appropriate judgment when relying on information provided by an AI agent. TrustedAdvisorsAI agents are not substitutes for qualified medical, legal, financial, emergency, or other licensed professional services.

Protecting the Service

Trusted Advisors LLC may monitor service usage and system activity for purposes including maintaining performance, security, reliability, and compliance with this Policy.

Usage patterns that appear unusually intensive, automated, repetitive, continuous, or otherwise inconsistent with reasonable individual use may be flagged for review. A usage flag does not necessarily indicate misuse or a violation of this Policy.

When appropriate, Trusted Advisors LLC may contact the user to better understand the activity and help identify a suitable way to use the service.

We reserve the right to take reasonable steps to protect the availability, security, performance, and integrity of our services in cases of significant or repeated misuse, abuse, security threats, or activity that materially affects the service or other users.

Our objective is to address unusual usage reasonably rather than unnecessarily interfere with legitimate learning and use.

Changes to This Policy

Trusted Advisors LLC may update this Acceptable Use Policy as our products, technology, and services evolve. Material changes may be communicated through our website, applications, services, or other appropriate means.

Continued use of the applicable service after an updated Policy becomes effective constitutes acceptance of the revised Policy.
